Paris, Aug. 20.—The Bulgarian delegation presented two notes to the Peace Conference yesterday. The first consisted of a statement on Western Thrace, which Bulgaria claims should be given to Bulgaria for historical, ethnological and economic reasons.

The second note dealt with demands of a military character made by the Inter-Allied command.

BRITISH EXCHANGE AT NEW LOW LEVEL

Pound Sterling Fell to $4.14 at New York To-day

French and Italian Exchange Also Felt Adverse Influence

New York, Aug. 20.—British exchange fell to a new low level here to-day, demand sterling dropping almost five cents to $4.14. French and Italian exchange were similarly affected. Paris demand bills fell to 84 francs to the American dollar and demand lire to 94.

Reports current in the financial district that the French Government is negotiating for an American loan of $100,000,000 to $200,000,000 for the purpose of stabilizing its credits in this market, lack confirmation in well-informed banking circles.

WANT INFLUENCE IN SYRIA EXTENDED

Some of French Deputies Say France Should Have Wider Field

Paris, Aug. 20.—The Anglo-Persian treaty continues to be an interesting topic in French and Peace Conference circles, the French discussing the probable effect of the agreement upon French interests in Syria.

A strong party in the French Chamber of Deputies is advocating the extension of the French influence in Syria.

Peking, Aug. 17.—Delayed.—(Associated Press.)—A mandate decision made by the League of Nations and Germany at an end will not be issued until the treaty with Austria is signed, it is announced.

The Government is declared, it is still determined not to sign the German treaty. No decision has been reached yet as to the Chinese attitude toward proposals for mediation regarding the signing of the German treaty.

The Government, it is added, is determined not to negotiate with Japan concerning the peace treaty.

RAILWAY STRIKE MENACE REMOVED

British Government and Engineers and Firemen Reach Agreement

London, Aug. 20.—An agreement has been reached between Sir Auckland Geddes, Minister of Reconstruction, and the locomotive engineers and firemen, settling the men's demands, it was announced to-day.

The insistence of the railroad men on August 14 that the long pending wage dispute be settled immediately, threatened for a time to result in a strike that railroad men said would have disorganized the entire railroad system of the country.

The Government offered the engineers and motormen of electric lines fifteen shillings daily and the firemen eleven shillings, these wages being substitutes for the present system of wages and war bonuses. Representatives of the men recommended acceptance of the Government's scale.

GREAT STORES OF SUGAR AND TOMATOES SEIZED IN STATES

Boston, Aug. 20.—Federal authorities have seized 4,500,000 pounds of granulated sugar at the warehouse of the Terminal Wharf & Railroad Warehouse Company in the Charlestown district.

The public became aware of the great supply of sugar when District Attorney Pelletier announced yesterday that investigators had discovered more than 5,000,000 pounds of sugar in the warehouse. As the state laws make no provision for action against hoarders of foodstuffs, the district attorney instructed the inspectors to report their finding immediately to the Federal authorities.

There were 4,748,100 pounds of granulated sugar, 52,500 pounds of cube sugar, 353,600 pounds of syrup, a by-product of sugar, and 15,720 pounds of yellow sugar in the lot, the district attorney said.

Butter and Eggs.
Millions of pounds of butter and cheese and 14,000 dozens of eggs also have been found in warehouses here by agents of the Department of Justice. Evidence of the discoveries was presented to a Federal grand jury, which was convened yesterday in special session.

Inquiry into the large stocks of food found here developed, according to Federal agents, that virtually all export orders had been filled and that the supplies on hand were held for domestic use.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 20.—Twenty-three thousand cans of tomatoes have been seized here on a label order issued by Francis M. Wilson, United States District Attorney for Missouri.

GERMAN PRISONERS AND FOOD PROBLEM

Should They Be Returned to Germany Great Trouble Would Ensnare

Berlin, Aug. 20.—A meeting of Majority Socialists was held on Monday in protest against the further retention of German prisoners in France. It was the first move by the Socialists in the plan to bring women forward as an influence for the return of the prisoners, it being felt that they can arouse more sympathy than men.

Daniel Stucklen, a member of the National Assembly and Imperial Commissioner for War and Civilian Prisoners, blamed France for the holding of these prisoners and said that the condition of the men was bad. He said the men were treated well in Italy, but that in Japan they were miserable owing to the different customs and methods of housing the prisoners there.

Food Problem.
Many say the Government appreciates the fact there would be a tremendous added food problem should the prisoners be suddenly returned to Germany, and it is said that it would be better for them to remain where there is food, in spite of the mental anguish of themselves and their relatives. Above all else, fears are entertained that probably a large number of those returning will be either Bolsheviks in their views or will be easily converted to Communism.

Openly the Government declares that no sacrifice will be shunned to welcome and feed the men, but many believe there is a secret understanding resulting in their retention in France.

SULTAN OF SULU'S DAUGHTER HERE

Princess Kiram With Other Young Filipino Girls to Receive American Education

Princess Kiram, daughter of the Sultan of Sulu, arrived in Victoria this morning on the Katori Maru.

She stepped off the Japanese liner at the Outer Wharf aboard in a green silk sweater, a fine close fitting suede skirt, silk stockings and a neat pair of American pumps. She came down the gang plank arm in arm with another of her friends from the Philippine Islands. There are seven of them altogether. They looked over the interior of the great freight shed, then tripped outside, all entered two automobiles and started out on a tour of the city to get their first view of life on this continent.

The motor car drivers did not know that they were driving a member of one of the ancient and aristocratic families of the Pacific, and of a family whose name is known to all readers of American history wherever the English language is known.

With the Princess is Miss S. Aguinaldo, daughter of Emilio Aguinaldo, the chief of the insurgents in the Filipino insurrection of 1896, and their child in the Spanish-American war of 1898. She is seventeen years of age, and the Princess is eighteen.

To Study Sociology.
These two, along with the other five Filipino girls, are on their way to Chicago, where the United States Government is to put them to school, to give them an insight into Western civilization and life. One of the five girls, Miss R. Tirona, is already a bachelor of arts and a master of arts.

CLAIM JAPANESE CAUSED TROUBLE

Chinese Officials Blame Japanese Troops For Clash in Manchuria

Peking, Aug. 17.—Delayed.—(Associated Press.)—The official report of the Chinese Government regarding the clash between Japanese and Chinese soldiers on July 19 at Chang-Chun, Manchuria, it is said in Government circles, indicates that the Japanese provoked the trouble. The Chinese claim that the fact that Japanese soldiers forced an entry into the Chinese military encampment showed they were the aggressors.

The Chinese report says eighteen Japanese were killed and seventeen wounded and twelve Chinese killed and fourteen wounded. One hundred Chinese soldiers are missing but it is believed many of them fled in fear to return.

The Japanese Embassy at Washington announced that the Chinese Government, as a result of the incident at Chang-Chun, had dismissed from office three leaders of the Chinese soldiers and had reprimanded the Governor-General of Kirin Province. The statement said the clash was provoked by the Chinese, who fired upon the Japanese. Nineteen Japanese were reported killed and seventeen seriously wounded.

The dispatch is quoted as saying these forces operate from a base at Erzerum. The dispatch directs attention to the fact that the people in the Arslan district suffered severely during the war because of the Turkish and Russian operations there.

GERMAN MARK IS WORTH ONLY FIVE CENTS IN VANCOUVER

Vancouver, Aug. 20.—What is claimed in financial circles to be the first purchase of German marks in Vancouver since the beginning of the war took place yesterday when a well-known financial firm handled an order for the transference of $200 to Germany. This sum bought 6,000 marks, at the rate of 20 marks for $1, which means that the mark has fallen to 5 cents in Vancouver against the former normal exchange value of 23 1/2 cents.

German-Austrian marks are still lower, being offered at 4 cents in Vancouver.

It was testified that after sentence of death had been passed on Jacques and Martens, von Heinrich authorized the lawyers of the condemned men to appeal to the German Kaiser. PRINCE WAS GREETED AT CHARLOTTETOWN

Warmly Welcomed at Capital of Canada's Smallest Province

Charlottetown, P. E. I., Aug. 20.—The Prince of Wales landed here at noon yesterday and was received by the Administrator, Chief Justice Matheson, Premier Arsenault, Mayor Wright and others. After inspecting the guard of honor, the Prince was driven to the Provincial Buildings, where he was presented by the Government of Prince Edward Island with an address read by Premier Arsenault, and an address from the city of Charlottetown, to both of which the Prince replied.

After a number of citizens had been presented to the Prince, he was driven through streets lined with cheering thousands to Victoria Park, where he decorated a number of battle-scarred heroes with medals. The Prince also inspected the Veterans, Boy Scouts and Cadets.

At College. This part of the programme over, he motored to the Prince of Wales College, where he was the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Government. The Administrator of the Government, who presided, proposed a toast to the King and the Prince of Wales. The latter, in response, expressed his deepest appreciation of the cordial welcome extended to him and his great regret at not being able to make a longer stay. He then spoke of the splendid services rendered by the men and women of Prince Edward Island to the Empire during the great war, and of his profound sympathy with the soldiers and sailors who had been disabled and the homes which had been bereft.

The Prince then proposed the health of the Province of Prince Edward Island, coupled with the name of the Administrator of the Province. Chief Justice Matheson, the Administrator, made a fitting reply.

The Prince visited the Woodman farm and the Provincial Experimental Farm.

At Races. The scene was then changed to the driving park, where trotting races were in progress. Leaving the gallery

At 4 o'clock the Prince, amid the roar of saluting guns from the park battery, boarded the destroyer Dragon, and the craft steamed out to meet the Renown, to which the Prince was transferred to continue his journey to Quebec.

Library Books for Cowichan Readers

Incorporation Secured; Books to Be Sent From Victoria Library

Duncan, Aug. 20.—A meeting of the library committee was held in the Cowichan Women's Institute room to which were invited members of the Institute, subscribers to the library and others. There were present Mrs. Blackwood-Wileman, chairman; Mrs. Holt Wilson, Mrs. Whidden, Mrs. Patterson, Mrs. Christmas, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Blackwood-Wileman and Mr. E. T. Cresswell.

The chairman stated that the meeting had been called to explain that there is a charter for the library, which is now the Cowichan Public Library, under the care of the Women's Institute. This action had been unanimously decided upon at a meeting of the Women's Institute in April last, and endorsed at a later meeting of the library committee. It was registered in June, the required members signing being Mrs. Blackwood-Wileman, Miss Wilson, Mrs. Whidden, Mrs. Christmas, Mrs. Carr Hilton, Mrs. Holt Wilson, Mrs. E. F. Miller, Mr. R. C. Fawcett and Mr. Blackwood-Wileman, and it was incorporated about a fortnight ago as a joint stock company.

According to arrangements made, $25 a year paid to the Victoria Library secures fifty volumes, which may be exchanged every three months. A larger grant would secure a proportionately greater number of volumes. Requests for special books on the same basis as to members of the Victoria Library will be granted up to five volumes a week, the borrowers to pay postage.

Guarantees were required by the Victoria Library as to the maximum of usefulness, to guard against loss.

Eleven on Board.

It had been arranged that the Cowichan Library Board was to consist of eleven members—the president of the Institute, the secretary and the librarian, four other members of the Institute and four subscribers other than Institute members. Members of the Institute would pay fifty cents to join the library, their institute membership costing $1. Non-members of the Institute would pay $2 for the use of the library each year. Mrs. Miller, the librarian, reported that there were 87 library members, 74 being members and 13 non-members of the Institute.

Resolutions were carried approving the action of the committee in obtaining the benefits of the Libraries Act. The rules drafted by the committee, with a suggested alteration or two, were approved.

A motion, moved and seconded by Mr. Cresswell and Mrs. Holt Wilson, was passed that the charter does not provide for annual meetings, there should be an annual meeting of the subscribers in January at which the officers and committee would be elected.

In answer to a question as to whether it would be possible for another organization to form a library association, it was stated that Victoria would not have the privilege of two libraries in the same town.

Members chosen to form the library board until January next were: Mrs. Blackwood-Wileman, president of the Cowichan Women's Institute; Mrs. Holt Wilson, secretary of the library committee; Mrs. Miller, librarian; Mrs. Whidden, Mrs. Christmas, Miss Wilson, Mrs. Corfield, members of the Institute, and Messrs. R. C. Fawcett, R. Blackwood-Wileman, E. T. Cresswell and C. Ward, subscribers, who are non-members of the Institute.

Nurse Committee.

A meeting of the Cowichan District Nurses Committee was held at the Women's Institute room on Monday afternoon with Capt. Rev. F. L. Stephenson in the chair and the following members present: Mrs. Blackwood-Wileman, Mrs. Corfield, Mrs. Barnett, Mrs. Christmas, Mrs. Whidden, Mrs. H. D. Morten, and hon. president, K. P. Duncan, M.P.P., who reported for the committee appointed to visit the Hospital Board to secure its co-operation.

A letter was read from the Consolidated School Board asking for a more definite proposition as to the responsibility expected of the Board with regard to pay and the hours a district nurse would be available for the schools.

Mrs. Blackwood-Wileman was chosen to take the matter up with the School Board and to offer the Board a sum of $4 a day and her transportation to make the same offer to the schools outside the consolidated area.

It was decided to call a meeting of the subscribers on Wednesday, August 27, at 3 p.m. in the Institute room, to consult them with regard to several matters.

Steve Overturned.

The picture play, "The Whip," on Monday evening last drew a crowded house at the Duncan Opera House, and was exceedingly well received. In an agitated pause in the middle of one of the most exciting thrills, a crowd that could find standing room only around a stove in the rear, overturned it with a crash. Order was restored, however, when the pictures and the music went on.

CURRIE INVITED.

Vancouver, Aug. 20.—Vancouver's welcome to General Sir Arthur Currie will coincide with the opening of the first peace fair in this city, if a proposal of Acting Mayor Owen and Brig.-General Victor Odium is carried.

Following a consultation with General Odium, Alderman Owen sent a telegram to the newly-created Inspector-General yesterday, asking him to open the exhibition on September 8.

The nature of the celebration in honor of General Currie depends on the date of his arrival in the city.

EVEN THE RING OF TELEPHONE WOULD UNNERVE HAVEN
Couldn't Raise Cup of Coffee Without Spilling It; Restored by Tanlac

"I was fit had health for twelve long years, and had spent a small fortune trying to get some relief, but my troubles were never overcome until I commenced taking Tanlac," said W. J. Haven, a well-known contracting painter, who lives at the corner of 101st Street and 104th Avenue, Edmonton, while talking to a Tanlac representative the other day.

"My stomach was in terrible condition," continued Mr. Haven, "and instead of getting any relief from the different treatments and medicines I took, I just gradually grew worse all the time. Every time I ate anything I would be bloated up with gas, and I never could get any sleep. Sometimes this gas was so bad that it would almost cut my breath off, and would cause my heart to palpitate something awful. I was so nervous that the least thing, even the ringing of the telephone would upset me. I couldn't raise a cup of coffee or tea to my mouth without spilling it. Many nights I didn't sleep a wink. I finally got to where I had to give up my work altogether, and was so discouraged over my condition that I had given up hope of ever getting well again."

Then I heard about Tanlac and what it was doing for so many other people, and I decided to see what it would do for me. Well, sir, before I had finished my first bottle I knew that I had found the right medicine at last, and since taking seven bottles of it, I am a well and hearty man again. My nerves are as steady as a clock now, and no matter how much noise is made around me, it doesn't bother me the least bit, and I sleep like a log every night. I am never bothered with gas forming after meals, and I never have palpitation of the heart any more. In spite of my fifty-four years of age, I can do as much hard work as the best of them. In fact, I just feel like a boy again, and I owe it all to Tanlac. This wonderful medicine has done much more for me than I had any idea it would do, and I am so happy over my recovery to health that I just want to talk about Tanlac to everybody I meet."

Tanlac is sold in Victoria by D. E. Campbell, corner Fort and Douglas Avenues.

MARTIAL LAW NOW IN UPPER SILESIA

Berlin, Aug. 19.—Via London, Aug. 20.—The situation in Upper Silesia, which is slightly improved in some sections, remains sufficiently serious to compel the commander of the Sixth Army at Breslau and the State Commissioner of Silesia at West Posen to issue a martial law order, providing that offenders against law and order can be shot immediately. Striking is forbidden and all strikers and persons who have been prevented from proceeding with their labors have been ordered to return to their places at once.

Polish uprisings continued yesterday, beginning in half a dozen towns almost simultaneously. The revolutionaries were repulsed in some places after bitter fighting. At Schomburg the situation has become worse, the population being embittered by the discovery of the mutilated bodies of German soldiers.

Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have PAREGORIC or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and A FEW DROPS, TOO MANY will produce the SLEEP FROM WHICH THERE IS NO WAKING. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labelling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without you or your physician know of what it is composed. CASTORIA DOES NOT CONTAIN NARCOTICS.

WAR ENDED SOONER THAN ANTICIPATED

Currie Tells Ottawa Canadian Club About the Final Operations

Recalls Wonderful Part Played by Canada's Heroic Army

Ottawa, Aug. 20.—The last hundred days of the war, in which the Canadian Corps struck many heavy blows which finally, with the blows of the other troops, brought about the collapse of the German military machine, came after the Supreme Allied War Council had decided that only one more battle should be fought in 1918, Gen. Sir Arthur Currie, who was commander of the Canadian Corps and now is Inspector General of the Canadian Forces, told an audience of 700 persons at a Canadian Club luncheon in the Chateau Laurier here yesterday.

"On August 1, 1918," said General Currie, "the War Council decided we would fight only one more battle, which was to be an effort to free the Paris-Amiens railway and gain the Amiens defence line. Then all the Allied forces on the West front would make their positions secure and wait until the Spring for the American army to get there in strength. Then it was planned that we would finish the war."

However, said Sir Arthur, the attack on the Amiens line resulted so splendidly that it was decided to push ahead, and the result was the collapse of the German defence system and the signing of the armistice on November 11.

Position of Canadians. Previous to the delivery of the great hammer blows planned by Marshal Foch, the Canadians had been held in a reserve position, which was one-fifth of the entire British front, and included ground which was tempting bait for the enemy, the great coalfields being within the grasp of the German army.

Careful organization and great secrecy were among the factors vital to the Canadians' success, said the commander. By careful planning the Canadians were about to deliver an attack in his country, and he had not been advised of the fact. At the same time the British War Office was receiving complaints that the Canadian force was being divided up, some being sent to Belgium for an attack, while others went to another front.

The movements of the Canadian troops were so well concealed that the Germans had no idea they were in the neighborhood when the attack was launched, and so well were the enemy positions noted that the Canadian gunners opened fire, creating a perfect barrage over the enemy trenches without having to lose any time in registering the German positions.

"There were days previous to August, 1918," said Sir Arthur, "when it was nothing but the rugged determination and will to win that carried the officers and men through, but with the breach of the Hindenburg Line at Queant-Drocourt, things had changed and people in the Allied countries began to get new heart for the struggle."

All Did Share. "I am glad of the welcome which has been extended to me," said General Currie, "because I know it is meant for every man who fought and bled with me. There is no member of the Canadian Expeditionary Force who wants to take undue credit. Our great strength lay in the fact that we were one big fighting machine and we were all doing our share as we saw it."

General Currie referred to the growth of respect for the Canadian forces from their arrival in France until the end of the war. In the last three months of the war the Canadians had consumed twenty-five per cent. of all the ammunition fired by the entire British army. When the enemy had first used poison gas, General Smith-Dorrien had said to him that, knowing of the enemy's tactics and the retirement of the troops to the right of the Canadians, (General Smith-Dorrien) had foreseen the worst disaster in the annals of the British army.

Hard Hitters. When the news came back that the Canadians were holding he could not believe it and went up again and again for news. The reputation then made for doggedness was more than borne out by the Canadians in the later years, until in the end the Canadians had been recognized as the hardest hitting force on the Allied front. The different organization methods which had made it possible to choose certain divisions for certain work, and the pooling of the engineers and artillery of the Corps, had given the Canadians an advantage, said Inspector-General Currie, and this factor was largely responsible for their success later.

"I am glad to say," said the speaker, "that our army fought against the greatest military machine the world ever produced, yet never lost a gun. In fact, in the last two years it never failed to take an objective and there were some of our divisions which never allowed a hostile foot to enter their trenches. We never lost an inch of ground that we had once consolidated."

Great Successes. Two hundred days from August 8, 1918, had seen remarkable successes, and General Currie said he would urge the Government to educate the people more in what that period meant to Canada. The Canadians had been previously held as Haig's reserves, ready to move wherever the Germans struck.

"And," said General Currie, "it was only a question then of how many reserves would be sent to the front. Field Marshal Haig said that in all the dark days his remaining comfort was that he had the Canadians to fall back on."

The Canadian force had been used as the spearhead in the Amiens drive, and it was the plan and set the time.

Why Lack Of Iron In The Blood May Be Costing You Money Every Day

Many a Capable Man or Woman Falls Just Short Of Winning Because They Don't Back Up Their Mentality With Physical Strength and Energy

Many a capable man or woman falls just short of winning because they don't back up their mentality with the physical strength and energy which comes from having plenty of iron in the blood," says Dr. James Francis Sullivan, former physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.), New York, and the Westchester County Hospital. Lack of iron in the blood not only makes a man a physical and mental weakling, nervous, irritable, easily fatigued, but it robs him of that virile force, that stamina and the pace," said General Currie. The secrecy has been perfect and the objective, the old Amiens line, was taken the first night.

Eight Miles. "That day we penetrated eight miles, the greatest penetration made by any army in the war, and our victory had a wonderful effect. By August 13 we had penetrated 24,000 yards and reached the old Somme battlefield, which the Germans had left in 1916."

General Currie said he had then advised that the Canadians be moved to assist the British Third Army, driving from Bapaume, and after that army had later struck, the Canadians were called upon and were the first to break the Hindenburg Line. During the eight days the battle lasted, they pierced five systems of German trenches.

Forty-seven Divisions. The Canadians, in the last 100 days, had faced forty-seven different German divisions, or more than a quarter of the enemy forces on the Western front. The force in the world, said General Currie, had played a greater part in finally ending the struggle and bringing the enemy to his knees.

The spirit of the troops, even to the last, had been such that the gunners and stretcher-bearers worked through gas attacks without masks in order to give their comrades better support and assistance.

Victoria Crosses. Of the sixty-four Victoria Crosses won by Canadians during the war, thirty had been awarded for acts during the last 100 days. There was nothing the men would not do to win.

Of the men who lay buried in Flanders, Canada could best cherish their memory by doing her duty to those who were their dependents, as the men had done their duty for Canada, said Gen. Currie.

IRENE CASTLE KEPT MARRIAGE A SECRET FOR NEARLY A YEAR

New York, Aug. 20.—Irene Castle, dancer and moving picture star, who was married here on May 3 to Captain Robert E. Treman, of Ithaca, N. Y., had been secretly married to Captain Treman for almost a year before the New York ceremony, according to The New York Herald. The Herald states that the ceremony was performed in Picken, S. C. on May 21, 1918, by the Rev. Frank A. Jahan, of Greenville, S. C. This date was but a few days more than three months from the time her famous husband, Captain Vernon Castle, was killed in an aeroplane crash at Fort Worth, Texas.

The then Mrs. Castle, says The Herald, explained to the minister that she was desirous of keeping the marriage a secret for business reasons.

BODIES WRONGLY IDENTIFIED AFTER FIRE AT MONTREAL

Montreal, Aug. 20.—A strange complication has arisen in the identification of bodies recovered from the holocaust at Dominion Park here that occurred last Sunday week. Yesterday another body was recovered which was identified as that of Jean Robert Ferland, son of Dr. Ferland, of this city. Dr. Ferland last week identified a body as that of his son and had it interred in the family plot. It is now thought that the body then identified was that of young Charbonneau, another victim and friend of Ferland's of about the same age. Another body buried as young Charbonneau is now presumed to have been that of Antonio Ciccio, whose bride also perished in the disaster. It is probable that all the bodies of the men victims will be exhumed in order to obtain sure identification.

THE FALL OF EXCHANGE.

The sharp drop in the value of the British pound to $4.19 in New York yesterday is attributed to the announcement of Premier Lloyd George that the drastic import restrictions now in force in Great Britain will be abandoned next month. As the depreciation of sterling in the United States has been due to the adverse trade balance of the United Kingdom it is anticipated that the removal of the restrictions on goods imported into the Old Country will still further affect the exchange situation. That is to say, the excess of imports into Britain over British exports will become even greater than it is now when the regulations now limiting them have been cancelled.

The removal of these restrictions, however, is necessary notwithstanding its effect upon British exchange. It is an indispensable preliminary to the recuperation of British trade, and many eminent economists in London are of the opinion that they never should have been enforced. Great Britain must import in order to export, and her objective, of course, is to make her exports exceed her imports so that she will be a creditor instead of a debtor. As it is, she is a debtor to the United States to the extent that what she buys from the republic is greater than what she sells to it and the exchange, therefore, is heavily against her.

Canadian money also is at a growing discount in the United States for similar reasons. The balance of our trade with our neighbor is against us. This is not a new condition. Before the war we invariably imported from the United States more than we sold to it, but we were able to maintain the stability of our exchange because we had a favorable trade balance with Great Britain and could pay the United States by drafts on London. Further, as we were heavy borrowers in London we were able to dispose of our sterling in the New York market.

The Toronto Globe points out that "Canada still has a large favorable balance in her trade with Great Britain—meaning that we export more to her than we import from her—we have become a creditor nation as far as our financial relations with Britain are concerned and a rather heavy borrower from the United States. Thus, the support of the British money market in helping to overcome the effect upon our exchange of the excess of our imports from the United States over our exports to that country is no longer available to us."

All this, of course, is purely a business condition and in pursuance of an economic principle which cannot be set aside by any amount of sentiment. The value of the British pound has undergone in Canada a sharp decline for the same reasons that influenced its depreciation in the United States. We export to the United Kingdom much more than we import from it and, as we have pointed out, like the United States we are a creditor nation in our trade relations with the Old Country.

The obvious solution for both Great Britain and Canada is to produce and export more and cut down our imports by economizing in our consumption; in other words to get to work and check extravagance. This brings the problem directly down to the individual, but it imposes a double obligation upon the Governments. As long as Governments continue to budget for huge deficits and float gigantic loans, money as a medium of trade and barter will not regain its old standing, and the cost of production will continue to be excessively great, while the pound, or the dollar, of course, will not return to its former value in the public mind.

The fact that the value of the British pound is now only $4.19 in New York and may decline to $4, however, is causing American financial interests more anxiety than satisfaction. Obviously, if the purchasing value of British sterling should depreciate too much in the United States, British purchases in the republic would decline proportionately, for the British buyer would get too little for his money and his tendency therefore would be to buy elsewhere. This is recognized by American financial interests and they themselves are considering the best way to readjust the situation. Extremes cut both ways in most instances and the exchange problem is not likely to be an exception.

EDITORS LEAVE.

The members of the National Editorial Association have left Victoria with the most favorable impressions of the city and its people and the determination to give the place a prominent part in the publicity which will develop from their tour. They were quick to appreciate Victoria's charms, which they described as being singularly its own, and the hospitality of the public, and we may be sure they will express that appreciation in a way that will be of the utmost advantage to the city and Island. Too much praise cannot be given to Mr. McAdam, the indefatigable secretary of the Victoria & Island Development Association; J. C. Pendray, President of the Association; J. O. Cameron, President of the Board of Trade; the heads of other public bodies and public-spirited citizens generally for the manner in which the reception and entertainment of the visitors were arranged and carried out. Incidentally, we might point out that if the Victoria & Island Development Association had done nothing else in making known the attractions of Vancouver Island, its activities in connection with this Convention would more than justify its existence and the support that has been given to it.

FOREST FIRES.

Destruction of two dwellings so near the more thickly populated areas as Burnaby by forest fires again emphasizes the need of care and vigilance on the part of the general public during the intensely dry season. In the reports which reach the Department of Lands each week is ample evidence that many outbreaks which are responsible for the destruction of valuable timber could have been avoided if the frequent exhortations of the Forest Branch had been heeded. The thoughtless tossing away of a lighted match, a cigarette or cigar butt, may very easily start a fire if it should chance to fall on parched vegetation. There is no danger from the camp-fire if the elementary principle followed by those who live out of doors is observed. By selecting a stone base and by a liberal application of water after the need of a fire is over risk is reduced to the minimum. Until the camper, the picnic party and the general public realize that a great natural resource is placed in jeopardy by carelessness there will continue to be similar incidents to that which occurred at Burnaby yesterday.

AN EXTRAORDINARY PROTEST.

It is difficult to understand just why the Salmon Arm branch of the Great War Veterans' Association should raise its voice in protest against the appointment of Brigadier-General William C. B. C. M. G. D. S. O., to the position of appraiser under the Federal Land Settlement Board in the place of the present holder of the appointment—who is not a returned soldier. It cannot be that the Association regards the Brigadier as incompetent from the point of view of agricultural experience, for he is well known throughout the district as a successful farmer with ten years' practical knowledge of the surrounding country behind him. It may be that the idea of a General getting the job is not very strong in appeal.

If the objection lies in that direction, however, it should be remembered that General William was an humble private in the 17th Lancers for twelve years. He entered the army in his youth and served through the South African war. One of the first to leave the Kamloops district in August, 1914, as a volunteer private—not as a reservist—was Brigadier-General William. Sheer ability and military experience alone took him well on his way to the top of the tree. So in his return to civil life as a General he takes up a branch of the calling which he has followed for a decade in that particular area. Surely the G. W. V. A. at Salmon Arm will hesitate to penalize a brilliant military record.

MAY VISIT VICTORIA.

The announcement of Mr. Daniels, the Secretary of the United States navy, that, if time will permit, the American Pacific fleet which recently reached California ports, may visit Victoria on its way to Seattle will arouse much satisfaction in this city, and the hope that it will be possible for the plan to be carried out.

Canadians appreciate the valuable services rendered by the navy of our neighbor in the great war, and recall its efficient co-operation, under the able direction of Admiral Sims, with the British navy both in European waters and in the transportation of troops and supplies across the Atlantic. A fine squadron of American ships formed a unit of the Grand Fleet and Sir David Beatty warmly eulogized its gallant officers and men for the comradeship, zeal and ability they showed while they were under his command. If the Pacific fleet should visit Victoria it will be most heartily welcomed.

According to an announcement from London the British Government has removed all restrictions on the output of beer. Confirmatory legislation is promised at the next session of Parliament, and in the meantime the provisions of the present restricting Act will not be enforced. Thus is eliminated a thorny subject from the realm of British controversy.

What is to become of the funicular railway which winds its way to the summit of many peaks in Switzerland if the Jungfrau may be "scaled" with safety by airplane? Two aviators landed on her peak yesterday morning without apparent difficulty. We should hardly suppose that the needle point of the Matterhorn would be considered the best spot for finishing a flight; but as the funicular in this case has made great strides towards the summit, the erection of a landing platform on the cone may follow before very long.

- Don't, however, let pleasure-seeking supplant success-seeking.
- Don't become wholly self-centred.
- Don't succumb to the temptation to be too busy to have any time to be rationally sociable.
- Don't cultivate exclusiveness.
- Don't forget that there are no express trains to the summits of success.

TIMBERED AREAS IN HAZARDOUS CONDITION

Hot and Dry Weather Causes
Forest Branch Considerable Anxiety

According to reports reaching the Forest Branch of the Department of Lands this morning the forest fire conditions throughout the Province remain generally hazardous. Hot and dry weather continues in most forest districts, and only in the upper section is the situation regarded as safe. While some anxiety is still caused by the conditions surrounding the Vancouver district, the Department hears that all fires are now under control. Dry, windy weather and parched vegetation in the Kamloops area renders the situation there still dangerous. Similar remarks apply to the Nelson district, where the weather continues to be warm and clear.

Many small fires are reported from Vernon, hot and dry weather making conditions there dangerous. Heavy showers at Prince George and heavy rain at Prince Rupert has removed all danger from those districts.

CRESTON SETTLEMENT IS MAKING PROGRESS

Seventy Returned Men Already on the Spot Clearing Land

Splendid progress is being made in connection with the Provincial Government's plan for co-operative soldier settlement, according to a statement made to The Times representative by H. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture. The new settlement near Creston is rapidly filling up and seventy returned soldiers are now engaged there in land clearing. Camp Lister, named in honor of Colonel Fred Lister, C.M.G., D.S.O., M.C., superintendent in charge, is already a flourishing colony. Ten of the veterans are settled in temporary homes. A mess-house, seating sixty men, is in use. This is being enlarged to accommodate ninety. One large and three small bunkhouses provide sleeping quarters, while another bunkhouse will be completed this week. The veterans already in the camp have thirty-six children, and Inspector F. G. Calvert is arranging for school accommodation for the opening of the fall term.

Twenty-Acre Farms.
According to plans outlined by M. H. Nelems, Chairman of the Provincial Land Settlement Board, the farms at Camp Lister will average twenty acres in extent. Five acres on each farm are being cleared, and the total area included in the project is 7,000 acres in extent. Part of this acreage has already been completely taken over, while the balance will be secured next year.

The veterans are paid $4.00 per day wages for a night-habit day. They pay $1.20 per day for board, and they themselves state that there are no better fed workers in the Province. They have a new co-operative store, with prices lower than those of the coast cities, and every assistance is given them in bringing in their families and household furniture.

The lands will be utilized for fruit-growing and mixed farming. Irrigation is not needed in the district, although better results are secured where irrigation has been undertaken.

Will Own Own Farm

Only returned men are working at Camp Lister, and each will become the owner of a farm. The number of men will be increased as facilities for handling them are installed. It is hoped before winter to have allotments made of some of the permanent holdings and to have erected a community hall. The work of clearing is proceeding rapidly, and although the camp was established little more than a month ago a big showing has been made.

ARMENIAN TAG DAY.

To the Editor.—We have an opportunity again throughout our city to show our deep sympathy towards the suffering people of the East—Armenia and Syria. There is no need for words from me. The public has been reading for the last week of the grave situation confronting the Armenian people and the prayers of Christians should be encircling them, and I believe they are—but we must also feed them and help those brave loving hearts at the seat of danger who distribute relief and comfort, and provide homes for the thousands of orphans whose parents have been slain by their cruel enemies. Surely we are humane enough to come forward generously with our offerings next Saturday—dollars where possible, though we are grateful for the smallest coin given with a loving heart. Remember 200.00 are on the verge of starvation in the Caucasus and 300,000 more will be without food if the British withdraw the troops guarding supplies, which God forbid! We read a short time ago of the twenty-eight orphanages in the Armenian republic, and of the 18,000 orphans to support themselves—many more besides. Now let us do our best. Trust our God and love and befriend these helpless, brave, enduring people, many of whom for Christ's sake have died the martyr's death.

INTER-MUNICIPAL HARMONY SHAKEN BY FIRE QUESTION

City Decides After Debate to Accept Oak Bay's Offer
Toward Upkeep

AMICABLE RELATIONS "HUMBAG," SAYS ANDROS

Resolving to maintain what Alderman Andros considers the "humbag" of inter-municipal harmony, the City Council decided last night to accept Oak Bay's offer of an increased grant toward the maintenance of the Duchess Street Fire Hall. At the same time the Council went on record as favoring separate fire protection systems for the two municipalities after the end of the year, when the new agreement will end.

The fire hall issue has been an inter-municipal bone of contention ever since the beginning of the year when the city decided that Oak Bay was not paying enough for the fire protection afforded by the Duchess Street Hall. Oak Bay at first refused to pay more, and the city replied by threatening to close up the station. Oak Bay came back with the answer that the agreement between the two municipalities could be terminated only by mutual consent. This alarmed the city for a time, but finally it found a "joker" in the first agreement. It appeared that the city had failed to present a by-law on the subject to the people as the agreement provided. The contract was not, therefore, binding and was contended.

In the meantime Oak Bay intimated that it would be willing to pay some portion of the city's demands. A letter from Reeve Charles E. Wilson, received last night, explained that the Oak Bay Council was willing to pay an increase for the balance of this year from $150 to $250 a month.

Oak Bay Surprised.

Referring to the city's threat to close the hall and its contention that the present agreement was invalid, Reeve Wilson wrote:

"Without in any way admitting that the contention of your solicitor is correct, the Council of Oak Bay is extremely surprised to think that the city should seek to take advantage of its own default. Your Council's failure to consider this question from other than a strictly legal standpoint is not calculated to promote harmonious relations which are a pre-requisite to co-operation in the many questions which may arise from time to time between the two corporations. I think you will agree that it is hardly the fault of this corporation that your Council failed to pass a by-law authorizing the agreement or failed to raise the $25,000 by a vote of the people."

Alderman Cameron, Chairman of the Fire Warden's Committee, which had considered the matter before-hand, proposed that Oak Bay's offer be accepted without prejudice for the balance of the year dating from July 31; that the Council go on record as believing that "the interests of both municipalities would be best served by each owning and operating its own fire department, and that the Oak Bay Council be given notice that after December 31, Victoria will cease to furnish fire protection for Oak Bay."

Not Enough Yet.

"We don't consider that Oak Bay's offer is equitable," Alderman Cameron explained to the Council, "or that they will give us anywhere near what we deserve for the service rendered, as the cost of maintaining the hall has risen from $7,000 to $12,000. Under the new arrangement Oak Bay will be paying just half of what the service they get costs. At the same time I feel that the offer ought to be accepted."

Don't Give Them Anything For Nothing.

"Why in the world should we give them anything for less than they give us?" demanded Alderman Andros. "We don't get any credit for us. You propose to furnish them with a service at half its cost. Why should we provide fire protection for Oak Bay at all, anyway? They would not accept the arrangement if it were not cheap at the price. If they won't pay what the service costs let us tell them to get their own protection. If they could get this arrangement every municipality adjoining the city would want it. And yet you talk about amicable relations and all that sort of humbug!"

"Well, we propose to cancel the agreement at the end of the year," replied Alderman Cameron.

Anything For Peace.

"Why not do it right now?" persisted Alderman Andros. "They acknowledge that it is unfair themselves. The Fire Wardens say 'we know it's not right, we know it's not fair. But let us have no fighting—anything for harmony.' Why are we not under any obligation to Oak Bay. We have been giving them far more than they are entitled to for years. And what's more we have been fooling over this question for a year. Nothing has been done and I guess nothing will be done. It's most fortunate we didn't put the by-law on the subject to the people who, however, might have had more brains than the Council and turned it down."

Not a Good Principle to Go On.

Alderman Patrick did not like to see the city crawling through the knot-hole of its own negligence. It was not a moral way of doing business, this hiding under a technicality. Some of the Council, he felt, liked to live by the words of the good book which advised men to live in peace with their neighbors.

At the time the agreement had been entered into, Mayor Porter explained, the city had considered the contract a good bargain. The city just then had to have a hall in the eastern district any way. Now, on the other hand, Chief Vernon Stewart would prefer, as far as the city is concerned, to move the apparatus from the Bank Street station to another hall.

After further debate Alderman Cameron's proposals were adopted.

ROYAL GARDEN PARTY FOR WAR WORKERS

Ten Thousand Nurses and Other War Workers at Buckingham Palace

London, Aug. 20.—After yesterday's garden party at Buckingham Palace there can no longer be any doubt about the services to the country of the "Upper Ten." Exactly ten thousand invitations were issued, and they went to war workers of all kinds and all grades. To belong to the "Upper Ten" was a signal distinction, and will give tone to a man's home for the next decade.

It was an out-of-door crush such as the grounds of the Palace—made so charming by King Edward's enthusiasm for landscape gardening—have never seen before. There have been very big parties in the past, notably the one given just before the war to elementary school teachers, but nothing to approach this last party of the Peace Season. The numbers actually present exceeded the previous record, it is estimated, about fifty per cent.

Mostly Women. People poured in from the suburbs, and converged upon the Palace, in the same volume, and with the same sense of anticipated enjoyment, as a crowd going to the Albert Hall for a prima donna's concert. Three-quarters were women and you could tell them in the tubes and buses by the big envelopes, embossed with the Royal arms, that they held modestly in their hands.

So tremendous was the invasion between three and half-past that the three entrances to the grounds which had been arranged were found insufficient, and the Garden Gate was also opened. Then a little contretemps occurred which may have caused some slight embarrassment. No one had been told off to distribute tea-tickets to those entering by the Garden Gate, and some of the guests consequently thought they were not entitled to tea. A little inquiry soon put matters right, however, for the tickets were merely a method of distributing the victuals equally among the four refreshment marquees, and were not demanded by the attendants. This was the first time the plan has been adopted, and on the whole it worked well.

Crowd of Real Workers. By four o'clock the lawn was covered with an interesting and varied assembly as the Palace has ever looked down upon. Compared with many other Royal afternoon parties, the number of visitors who could be called "distinguished" or "well-known" was comparatively small, but on the other hand the crowd was rich beyond compare with men and women who have done hard, self-denying work for the national cause during the past five years. Every conceivable pattern of nurses' uniform seemed to be there—red and grey and white and blue with many varieties of curious headgear. V.A.D.s, and women police, Waacs and Girl Guides, Salvationists and Red Cross workers (with as many as a dozen bars to a single medal), sea scouts and land scouts and cadets, and workers of other kinds, were introduced to one another, and voted it a most delightful way of recognizing that they had done their bit.

Medals and Ribbons. Almost everybody wore some decoration or other. It was a field day for the O.B.E.s. Stout gentlemen in perfectly-fitting morning coats displayed medals on their breasts with a daring that would have made all the world gaze before the war. Some of the fashionably-dressed ladies had no need of jewelry or trimmings beyond their medals and ribbons. Kinetoscopes of both sexes followed the Continental custom of wearing medals and ribbon together, instead of leaving the medal at home. The pity of it was that in such an unimportant matter as this it was almost impossible to make a selection.

Two soldiers—Field-Marshal Sir Henry Wilson and General Haden Powell (as Chief Scout)—and two ecclesiastics—the Archbishop of Canterbury and the Bishop of London—were among the better known people who moved hither and thither among the Upper Ten, only a little less observed than Royalty itself.

Royal Handshaking. The Royal party came out soon after four o'clock, the King and Queen being accompanied by the Prince of Wales, Princess Mary, Prince Albert, and Prince Henry. The gentlemen formed one group and the ladies another, so that as many as possible of the guests might be presented and conversed with. They passed slowly down the line, shaking hands by the hand, and made many inquiries about decorations that attracted their attention. The King wore the uniform of a Field-Marshal and the Prince of Wales that of Colonel of the Welsh Guards.

Although a great many of the ten thousand were unable to get more than the briefest glimpse of any member of the Royal Family, there could be no question as to the immense success of the party of the pleasure it gave.

NURSES TO HAVE WAR GRATUITY

Information has been received at District Headquarters, M. D. No. 11, that a war gratuity is payable, under certain conditions, to members and ex-members of the following units: Members of Queen Alexandra's Imperial Nursing Service Reserve, Territorial Force Nursing Service, Nurses in Military Families' Hospitals, Voluntary Aid Detachment Nursing members, Special Military Probationers and Assistant Nurses. Any former members now resident in Victoria—or district—who have served during the war in any of the units named above will, on application in writing to the office of the A. D. M. S. Victoria, be supplied with all particulars available relating to the payment of the gratuity.

For Skin Made Flabby and Wrinkled by Heat

Sun, winds and flying dust often cause squinting and other contortions which make wrinkles. You can quickly get rid of every line, however caused, by using a harmless wash lotion made by dissolving an ounce of powdered salicylic acid in a half pint of water. The ingredients can of course be had at any drug store.

Many depressed by the heat and you want to freshen up quickly for the afternoon or evening, bathe the face for a few minutes in the salicylic lotion. You'll find this more refreshing than an hour's rest. It is fine for overcoming that apparatus of flabbiness so common in hot weather.

"Where is your new necktie, Uncle Wiggily?" asked Nurse Jane, the mistress lady housekeeper, as she came out on the porch of the bunny rabbit's hollow stump bungalow one morning.

"Humpty new necktie, Miss Fussy Wuzzey," exclaimed Mr. Longears, "why I didn't know I had to have one."

"Of course you have!" laughed Nurse Jane. "Don't you remember you said you'd take me to the dance that Mrs. Wibblewobble, the duck lady, is going to give for Lulu and Alice, her two duck girls? Don't you remember that?"

"Then you'd better hop right along to the eight and nine cent store and buy yourself a new one," went on the mistress lady. "The dance is to-night, but you'll have plenty of time to get a tie."

"And I must have a little time to practice some new dance steps," spoke the bunny rabbit. "I am a little rusty, like the hinge of the garden gate, and I may squeak in my joints a bit, when I do some of the fancy steps, if I don't practice a little." "Well, practice your dance, get a new necktie and you'll be all ready for the Wibblewobble party," said Nurse Jane.

The bunny rabbit gave his pink nose an extra wrinkle or two, took his tail stick hat down off the rubber tree, reached his red, white and blue striped rheumatism crutch out of the umbrella rack and away he hopped over the field and through the woods. "I did not take the rabbit gentleman long to get to the six and seven cent store, and there he bought a twenty-five-cent necktie from a little mouselike girl clerk." "Now for the dance!" cried Uncle Wiggily, as he once more hopped through the woods. "When he came to a smooth, grassy place, in among some tall trees, he said to himself: 'This will be a good place for me to practice.'"

So the bunny rabbit gentleman be-

THAT CHANGE IN WOMAN'S LIFE

Mrs. Godden Tells How It May Be Passed in Safety and Comfort.

Freemont, O.—"I was passing through the critical period of life, being forty-six years of age and had all the symptoms incident to that change—heat flashes, nervousness, and was in a general run down condition, so it was hard for me to do any work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me as the best remedy for my troubles which it surely proved to be. I feel better and stronger in every way since taking it, and the annoying symptoms have disappeared."—Mrs. M. Godden, 925 Napoleon Street, Fremont, Ohio.

Such annoying symptoms as heat flashes, nervousness, backache, headache, irritability and "the blues," may be speedily overcome and the system restored to normal conditions by this famous root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If any complications present themselves write the Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for suggestions how to overcome them. The result of forty years experience in at your service and your letter held in strict confidence.

PRESENTED TO QUEEN

MRS. ALFRED WATT, M.B.E., who is visiting friends in the East on her way home to Victoria after a long absence overseas, was among the ladies presented to Queen Mary at the garden party held at Buckingham Palace last month. Her Majesty is president of the Sandringham Women's Institute started by Mrs. Watt, the founder of Women's Institutes in England. Mrs. Watt, also of Victoria, was presented to the Queen on the same occasion.

A BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily's Funny Dance

Copyright, 1919, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate. (By Howard R. Garis.)

"That wasn't so bad," said Uncle Wiggily out loud, as he looked at himself in a wooden pool, which is the mirror used by all the animal folk. "Not half bad," said the bunny. "I agree with you!" suddenly cried a loud voice, and Uncle Wiggily was so surprised that he nearly turned a back somersault. "That was pretty good dancing," went on the voice. "Now I invite you to come to my house and dance for me."

"Who are you?" asked the bunny, expeditious like and graduated. But he had already begun to guess. "Who are you?" "Who, me? Oh, I'm the Pipsisewah," was the answer, given with a laugh. "I've been waiting for you to do a funny dance. Now you come along with me. The Skeezicks would like to see it, I'm sure."

"Well—er—couldn't you bring the Skeezicks here to watch me?" asked Uncle Wiggily, foxy-like. Uncle Wiggily knew that if the Pipsisewah would go away to bring the Skeezicks, that would give the bunny a chance to get home safe. "I did not bring the Skeezicks here, as he crawled out from behind a mulberry bush. 'My friend, the Skeez, is ill at my house. I'll take you there so you can do a funny dance for him. It may make him feel better,' and he grabbed Uncle Wiggily by the ears, and dragged the bunny off through the woods to his den, the Pipsisewah did."

"Now, do a funny dance for us!" ordered the Pipsisewah, as he set the bunny down in the middle of the den, where the Skeezicks was stretched out on a pile of leaves. "Do a funny dance for us!"

"Oh, but I have to have music to dance," said Uncle Wiggily. "If one of you will make some music—'Music!' cried the Pips. 'Ha! I know! I can put a piece of tissue paper over the comb, and play music on that; and you can sing, my friend Skeez. That will make music for Uncle Wiggily to dance by.' So the Pipsisewah got a big comb, and put a piece of thin paper over it. Then he held the comb to his lips and began to toot. "Dance!" he cried to Uncle Wiggily, and the bunny started to dance as the Pipsisewah played on the comb, when all of a sudden the big-

Learn to be a Nurse It is Easily Learned

Any ambitious woman who has the "mother instinct" can soon learn to be a practical nurse, by studying a book of 500 pages—just issued and called "Nursing in the Home," by Doctor Lee H. Smith.

One can learn all about nursing, not only in the hospital but in the home, by reading a new book just out, which teaches all there is to know about nursing, except the practical experience. This book is written for the ordinary reader and contains many illustrations, nicely bound, worth one dollar and a half, and sold by prominent drug stores in town for a limited time at 50 cents. It contains chapters on First Aid, Bandaging, Care of the Wounded; Burns, Scalds, Broken Limbs, How to Recognize Different Diseases, the Taking of Temperature, Giving of Baths, Advice to Mothers, Care of Infants, etc.

The home nurse will find within its pages reliable up-to-date instruction for caring for the sick, and the professional nurse will renew her hospital training. Such a book is invaluable, and every woman should have a copy for ready reference. If your druggist does not have it for sale, send 50 cents to the World's Medical Press, 654 Washington St., Buffalo, N. Y. Edition is limited.

band chap gave a howl and started to laugh so hard that tears came into his eyes.

"What's the matter?" asked the Skeez.

"Oh, playing the comb tickles my lips so queerly that I have to laugh," cried the Pips. "I can't play it. You try!"

So the Skeezik tried, but playing the comb tickled his lips, too, that he laughed until he cried. The Pips laughs too, and the eyes of the two bad eggs were so full of laughing tears, from being tickled by the comb, that they couldn't see Uncle Wiggily at all. And the bunny ran out, while they were laughing themselves into hysterics, and saw Mr. Longears was safely home with his new necktie.

PANTAGES

Introducing Joe Jackson, who, besides being the funniest hobo in the world, is probably the most widely traveled. Joe has been in every civilized country in the universe. He has performed before all the crowned heads of Europe. He has souvenirs from four royal courts now extinct, chief among which is a scarf pin which William Hohenzollern, former Emperor of Germany, presented to him in 1908 when Joe appeared by imperial command before Bill, wife and children Willie at Potsdam.

In 1910 Joe appeared before the late Czar Nicholas and family in Petrograd, then St. Petersburg. "The little Czarvitch, whom the mobs killed some months ago was just a delicate little child then. He laughed at my clowning and I liked him very much." Jackson reminisced in the dressing room to-day. "Why did they have to kill that helpless little boy? I have a child of my own—his about the same age as the Czar's son was then—and I always remember the poor little princeling when my own kiddie laughs at my act." Joe Jackson is the originator of the tramp bicycle comic in the variety theatre. He is headlining the current Pantages bill.

PRINCESS

"The Private Secretary" is proving to be one of the most popular productions ever staged at the above theatre. Screams of laughter nightly emanate from the audiences at the delightfully humorous situations with which the play is replete.

The personnel of the excellent company who are enjoying such a huge success include Mrs. W. Taylor, Mrs. Thornborrow, Mrs. G. Meredith, Miss V. Taylor, Miss Anthony, Major W. Taylor, Lieut. R. R. Webb and Messrs. R. N. Hincks, A. M. D. Fairbairn, A. Legge-Willis and Vernon Miller. With such a combination of talent to present this world famed comedy a most enjoyable evening's entertainment is assured the crowded houses which it is predicted will continue to be the order every night during the present run which concludes on Saturday next.

COLUMBIA

All the wild beasts of the African jungle romped over the screen last night at the motion picture presentation of Edgar Rice Burroughs' "Tarzan of the Apes," at the Columbia, where it will be shown for the last time to-day.

Its chief claim to attention is the realistic magnificence of its setting—it is said to have cost $300,000 to prepare—although there is also a mystery story of the English family in search of their long-lost son. Gordon Griffith, who played the boy, almost suggested at times that evolution had raced backward several dozen centuries as he flung himself from branch to branch. The illusion was heightened by the lions, elephants and the many varieties of apes and monkeys that wandered in upon the scene.

Besides Mr. Griffith, Elmo Lincoln and Enid Markey were featured in the rapidly moving scenes of the tropical jungle. The spectacle was Sinney and produced by the National Film Company of America. Its rapidly changing scenes and adventurous character of the action, the strange mingling of people and beasts, should make it appeal to those who seek action and drama rather than romance.

ROMANO

Not William Russell as such, you understand, but William Russell as Robert Winchester McTabb, is the happy-go-lucky coffin salesman in "Some Liar," the latest offering of William Russell productions, which will be shown at the Romano for the last time to-day.

He proves himself throughout five snappy reels, a first-rate genius in the manufacture of lies-while-you-wait, on any topic under the sun. The more sanguinary the subject, the more sanguinary the tale. He can make you see every detail of the slaughter of a whole regiment of Germans, though he never fought overseas. He can make you shudder while he tells how, with only his bare hands for weapons, he brought a villain to his last gasp—though at that very moment the villain is following him about town. He makes it perfectly clear how he got into the house via the porch and a window—and then he makes good his lie by using that roundabout method the next time he enters.

ROYAL VICTORIA

Joan, young, happy and carefree—just a kid—lives alone with her grandparents, who have forgotten the word "youth." In a house near by lives Martin Grey, a young man who has come to his country home to grieve alone over the death of a dearly-loved father.

Eventually Martin and Joan meet and get acquainted easily in the fashion of the very young. One day Joan is discovered with Martin and her grandparents forbid her to see him again. This is too much for little Joan, whose only happiness has been in the company of the man who has learned to love her. She runs away to Martin and he takes her to the city, where they are married.

To Joan married life is no different than any other kind of life, and she proceeds to carry out her idea of what life should be. Life is one merry-go-round, and each person's motto should be "Who Cares?" She forgets she has a husband and flirts madly with everyone and anyone.

Martin suddenly realizes that he has married a will-o'-the-wisp, a butterfly, whose motto is "Who Cares?" So he says "Who Cares— who the devil cares!" and becomes fast friends with Toodles, a chorus girl.

After a time the young couple realize that life holds no real happiness without the other. And so these happiness seekers become the ideal married couple, with love and happiness to rule their home. This is the story of "Who Cares," in which Constance Talmadge is presented by Lewis J. Selznick and which will be seen at the Royal Victoria Theatre again to-night and to-morrow.

DOMINION

Marguerite Clark, Paramount pete and winsome star, has a truly delightful role in "Come Out of the Kitchen," one of her latest releases, which will be shown on the Dominion screen this week.

Always bright where it is not tender and genuine in feeling, cheering from first to last in its happy viewpoint, "Come Out of the Kitchen," by Alice Duer Miller, is one of the most attractive stories ever visualized, both in its mood and its characterization. The story is of a high-born Southern family in financial difficulties, trying hard to meet home problems. Devoted to an invalid father, sacrificing all that has made life beautiful to them when the father's life must be saved by a costly operation in New York, they agree to act as servants in their fine old ancestral home when the place is temporarily leased to a Northerner.

The situation of this aristocratic old family of children acting as servants to people less kind and appreciative of our common humanity is one replete with material, both comic and tragic. Heavy contributor to the joyous mood of this Paramount comedy is Marguerite Clark, more vivacious, more versatile, more persuasive than she has ever been, a source of pleasure to the spectator every moment she is on view.

MOORE'S PORT SIDE TWIRLERS TO OPEN

First Game in Championship Series Will Draw Crowd To-night

Looks as though Manager Frank Moore, of the Straith-Two Jacks, is going to put Mabe Fortin on the mound against the league leaders in the opener of the play-off series for the local amateur baseball championship to-night. Frank said last night that Fortin looked pretty solid, and to his way of thinking this first game is a mighty important peg on which to hang the other two. Babe has had a more lengthy experience with the other team mates than any of the rest of Frank's string of twirlers. He is one of the most consistent pitchers in the league. He has won seven of the ten games he has pitched, and two of those losses were chalked up against lack of support for the box.

Fortin is a port side flinger, and has fine control of his ball. He does a lot of thinking when out on the mound, and handles every batter according to his individual tastes. Zaccarelli is Moore's other southpaw and should Fortin not go on to-night, it is likely that Zacc will. Manager Pat Carroll, of the Foundations, is very quiet these days. He doesn't know who his choice is for the box in the opener. To hear him talk, one might almost mistrust that he was completely out of touch with the team. He doesn't expect to play his dark horse on the mound to-night, that is, he didn't think this morning that he expected to do so. In short, the Foundation manager is saying very little but saying lots of words. To the direct question as to whether he estimated a win for the series, he admitted he thought the prospect might be considered good.

From the way the crickets chirped last night, Mike McMahon is the probable decoration for the mound on behalf of the shipyarders in to-night's game. In any event Mackey will likely stop the cawing pills as they cross the plate. Percy Thornston, who has been working out with the team for the past few weeks, but has never yet been seen in the big

Scenes, will show up in the Foundation's in-field and Hi Green, who was missed in last Saturday's game, will be back on the first bag. Keenest interest is being taken in the play-off of the city series in Vancouver lies between the Centrals and the Wallace, and the reports state that it is one of the hottest series conducted there for years past. The Wallace took the lead in the opening game. More than two thousand spectators are attending the matches. There is every indication of a big tournament for the opener of the local play-off series at the Royal athletic park to-night. The game will commence at 6.30. "Big league stuff" will be the order of the programme.

THERE WERE NO RACES.

Battling Sickness in Effort to Get Title

FRANCIS OUMET

The most talked of golfer on the American continent, who although under the care of physicians, is making a great effort to fulfill his great desire of becoming national amateur champion.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 20.—Supporters of Charles (Chic) Evans, Jr., of Chicago, and Francis Oumet, of Boston, gathered at the Oakmont Country Club to-day to watch these two players settle a long-standing argument in a thirty-six-hole match over the Oakmont Country Club course.

The fact that they met in the second round of the national amateur championship and that the loser would be eliminated from further competition for the title added to the great interest in the match. It was the first time the players have met in a championship competition, although they have been recognized as America's foremost amateur golfers for a number of years.

VICTORIA SETS THE PAGE FOR CRICKET

More cricket is played in Victoria than in any other city on the American continent, in proportion to its population, according to Dean Quainton, during a speech last night at the banquet given by the Victoria and District Cricket Association to the visiting cricketers taking part in the tournament for the Great War Challenge Cup. There was a good attendance at the happy gathering which was held at Christ Church Cathedral Hall, and presided over by P. C. Payne. The Dean, himself a keen cricketer, expressed the hope that the church would take an active interest in sports for its members, mentioning cricket in particular as helping the best qualities in a man.

Replying to an address of welcome delivered by John Virtue, J. A. Foll, one of the players on the Calgary eleven mentioned that up to 1914 the three prairie provinces had held a competition for a trophy, the competition having been held six years. It was hoped to hold the series again next year, and he would like to see the Victoria players make representation for a fourth province next year. An enjoyable musical programme was given during the evening.

EVANS AND OUMET

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 20.—Charles (Chic) Evans, Jr., and Francis Oumet, were all even when they completed the first eighteen holes of their thirty-six-hole match in the second round of the National Amateur Golf Championship to-day at the Oakmont Country Club.

One can buy ten cents' worth of almost anything now for thirty cents, remarks The Toledo Blade.

MAY CHANGE DATES OF OPEN SEASONS

Recommendations were passed last night by local sportsmen who met Dr. Baker, chairman of the Game Conservation Board, requesting that the Government be asked to keep the season for partridges closed this year, and the birds trapped and spread over Vancouver Island and adjacent islands.

It was also recommended the blue grouse open season on the Island be from September 13 to November 23, with a bag limit of twelve. Regarding blue grouse the sportsmen expressed the opinion that the open season for Willow grouse should be from October 13 to November 23, and if the dates mentioned were not approved of, they suggested the season be closed entirely.

The deputation which conferred with Dr. Baker was composed of members of the recently formed Game Association, and the chairman of the Game Conservation Board informed them that their recommendations would be considered.

The Board desired co-operation in making the dates with due regard to the conservation of game, and although it was a pity that Victoria was not represented at the sittings it was not too late to make alterations if the Board thought it desirable, the Chairman said.

SPLIT LEADS TO AN INJUNCTION

Old-line Vancouver Teamsters Win Round Over One Big Union

Vancouver, Aug. 20.—The injunction against the One Big Union element in the Vancouver Teamsters' Union secured by those members loyal to the international forbidding the use or disposal of certain property of Local No. 655 of the International Teamsters' Union, was continued yesterday by Mr. Justice Morrison. A strong effort was made by counsel for the defence to have it declared inoperative. Mr. Justice Morrison was very decided in his ruling.

Those behind the injunction claim that it is to prevent the "scuttling" of the funds of the local by the section inclined toward the One Big Union, as has been alleged to have been done to the treasuries and property of other unions which were swung to the new organization.

International and One Big Union forces are working hard and saying nothing and the Labor Temple has every appearance of being quiet and tranquil. A supporter of the international unions claimed that whereas there had been but fourteen unions represented at the last meeting of the Trades and Labor Council (One Big Union), there would be found to be over twenty unions affiliated with the Trades and Labor Council (international) when Wednesday night's meeting was called.

TO STAND TRIAL.

Winnipeg, Aug. 20.—S. Skrycky, charged with the murder of John Kohut at Stuartburg, Manitoba, on February 21 last, was committed for trial yesterday afternoon by Magistrate Sir Hugh John Macdonald.

Irritable Nerves Restored

and Health Regained

in a Simple Way

The man or woman who is rundown, not feeling up to the mark, perhaps irritable, nervous or sleepless can well afford to learn about the wonderful result the newly discovered blood-food is giving to folks that use it.

There is wonderful power in this new blood-food and every weak, pallid person can be quickly nourished back to health that uses it as directed.

After each meal, with a sip or two of water, you simply take two little chocolate-coated tablets, sold in all drug stores under the name of "FER-ROZONE."

The effect is noticeable at once.

You feel happier, brighter, more contented. That old-time feeling of weariness departs—you forget your

"nerves" and no longer get irritable or cross over trifling annoyances.

There is a reason for this change and that reason consists of the fact that Ferrozone contains blood-making materials you can get in no other way.

Ferrozone makes the blood tingle and sing with new vitality. This energetic, tingling of nourishment and strength being supplied to every part of the body.

No wonder the eyes brighten and the cheeks radiate color and happiness. With abundance of strength, a keen appetite, good digestion and plenty of sound sleep—all the result of Ferrozone—you quickly feel as if life held new charms and pleasures.

FRENCH COURT INVESTIGATES CRIMES GERMANS COMMITTED

The 31-year-old woman, who was responsible for the deportation of girls from Lille in 1918, General von Gravenitz, Governor of Lille at the time, it was declared, held von Gravenitz responsible for the order of deportation.

Murder and Torture.

Dr. Van Hensvoryn, a resident of Fives, near Lille, told the court that Captain Himmen Le Blafre was responsible for the murder of the doctor's nineteen-year-old son in November, 1916. The boy was bayoneted by a German soldier on the order of the captain. The doctor testified further that the captain, the German Governor of Lille and the German Governor of Roubaix were responsible for the torturing of French youths in German work camps.

Stabbed Priest.

The court also is inquiring into the case of Lieut. von Gymnitz, of the Thessalonian, Greece. The lieutenant is charged with the attempted murder of Abbe Hallinck, of Maroon-Barreuil. It is declared that the officer while drunk twice stabbed the priest in the chest, and was living. Afterwards he smashed the furniture and stole some money.

from the Philippine University at Manila. All speak English with a little hesitation. They were a little nervous and bashful when they were before the Canadian immigration officials here with their papers, but they were as full of enthusiasm and as interested in what was going on around them as Canadian girls.

The Princess and her friends do not know exactly what colleges they will attend, but they have made up their minds what they are going to study. They are to apply themselves to the social sciences, they say, and especially to ethnology, as carried on in the United States, with the object of improving the conditions of life of the peoples of the Pacific Islands.

A Famous Sultan.

The father of the Princess, the Sultan of Sulu, is the mighty and ancient chief of the archipelago consisting of 188 islands, forming the southern central portion of the Philippine Archipelago. The larger islands are high and of volcanic formation and the smaller ones rest on coral chains.

Their chief industry is pearl and shell fishing. Piracy was once the fixed occupation of former Sultans and their people. Even when Spain held sway over many of the Pacific islands, the Sultan maintained most of his territory independent of Spanish dominion. When the islands were transferred to the United States after the Spanish-American war, the Sultan of Sulu was recognized as the whole of the archipelago was recognized. But the government of the Sultan and his dates continues under this same arrangement.

The father of the demure little brunette, Miss S. Aguinado, is the insurgent Aguinado who was captured by General Puyat in 1901 after nearly two years of warfare. Ten days after his capture Aguinado, who had defied the American powers, took the oath of allegiance. But old animosities still rankled in his breast and he refused to allow the American flag on his estate. When the United States entered the war against Germany, he became leader in his district in the campaign to raise troops and also war funds. Now his daughter has come across the Pacific to become Americanized.

H. Gulam Rasul, governor of the Moro province of Taghian—an adopted son of the Sultan of Sulu, and Gov. Agustín L. Alvarado, of the province of Zamboanga, in company with Walter W. Marquardt, educational agent for the Philippine Islands, arrived in Seattle Monday from San Francisco to meet the party. They left the islands several months ago, going first to Ecuador.

Mr. Rasul will attend Columbia University at New York City to study engineering and political science at the University of Wisconsin. Among the Filipinos who are due on the Katori Maru, in addition to those mentioned, are Senoritas Caridad Trillos, Emilia Malavanan, Josef Jaro, Ramona and Teresa Solis.

ern Canada, stated to-day that he did not think the total wheat crop of Canada would be any less than the yield of last year, and perhaps a little better.

"I would estimate it at 170,000,000 bushels," he stated.

He intimated that considerable engineering work was about to be commenced on the branch line, a large amount of grading on the branch line is under way. Some new bridges are promised and a stretch of sixty miles of track leading from the main line to the Peace River Country is to be constructed in the immediate future.

A FAMILY SECRET.

"I bet I know what makes sister wear her hair brushed down over her ears," said the small boy.

"Do you?" replied the affable young man.

"Yes. But I ain't goin' to tell. Only if my ears were as big as sister's I'd do something like that myself."—Washington Star.

Seattle, Aug. 20.—War on the profiteers was declared and plans for their downfall were made at a conference of Mayors last night, attended by the executives of Portland, Tacoma, Spokane and Seattle. The Mayors declared against the exportation of food to European countries near production centers, protested against what they termed "American prices made in Europe," and formulated plans for a co-operative system of price-checking in all parts of the Northwest.

Mayor George Baker, of Portland, Ore., spokesman of the meeting, said: "We shall lend every facility to the national Government for the prosecution of profiteers and food hoarders."

KATORI BERTHS AFTER LONG DELAY

Japanese Liner Held in Fog
For Three Days Off Cape
Flattery

TO INVESTIGATE KOREAN ATROCITIES

Passengers Say Outsiders Are to Report on Japanese Treatment of Natives

After being held fog-bound off Cape Flattery for nearly three days, the Katori Maru, of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha line, reached the Outer Wharf this morning.

Sunday evening as the Katori was coming into the entrance to the Straits the fog became so thick that she slowed down and about 10 o'clock at night it was decided to take no further chances. Accordingly she was anchored about 100 miles off the Cape. She remained at anchor until 11 o'clock yesterday morning, when the fog lifted a bit, and she came in slowly. She reached the Quarantine Station at William Head early this morning.

The Katori brought a full complement of passengers, 339 in all, 112 of whom were first class and 54 second. There were 35 first and 11 second class landed at Victoria. The others go to Seattle. For Victoria there were 21 Japanese and 19 Chinese in the third class and 53 Japanese and 50 Filipinos for Seattle.

Passengers on the Katori said that outside missionaries and others are being sent from India and other places to investigate the situation in Korea, particularly the atrocities reported by the Foreign Mission Board of the Presbyterian Church. Japanese on the boat would say nothing at all about Korea. Europeans who had been in China recently said that they knew little or nothing about the attitude of the Chinese regarding the Shantung settlement in the Peace Treaty as they had left the country before most of the important recent developments there.

Seven thousand tons of cargo was brought from Japan, 1,000 of which is for Victoria, and is being discharged before the boat leaves for Seattle this evening.

Among the Canadians to disembark at Victoria were Capt. G. Spencer, Miss E. Spencer, and Miss D. Spencer, of Vancouver. Capt. Spencer only recently returned from service with the Canadians in France, and for the last two months has been in Japan with his family on a holiday. Capt. A. R. Carter, R. A. M., of London, also landed here. He is on his way back to England after four years' service in Mesopotamia.

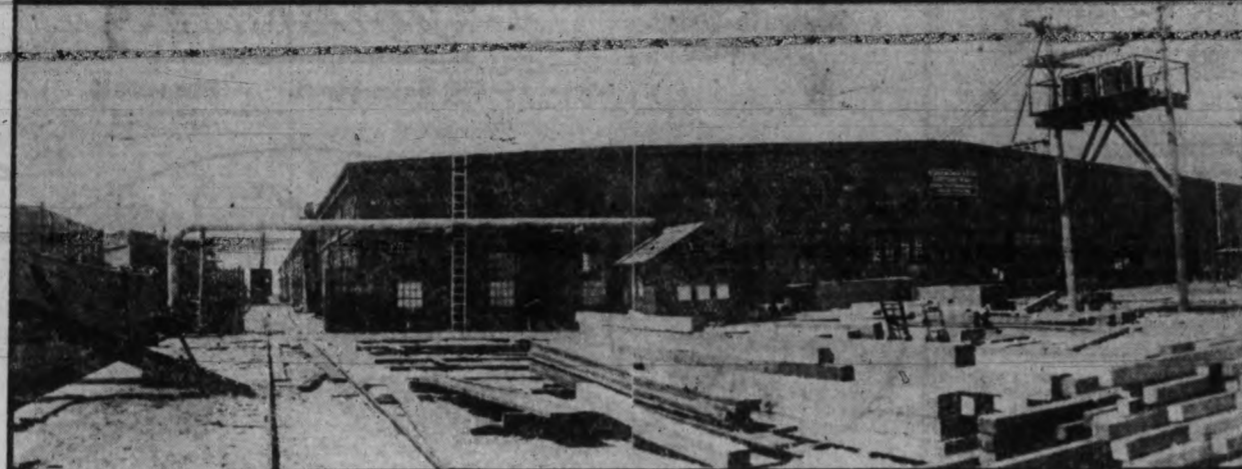

To Have American Education
Another officer who has been through the Mesopotamia campaign and who was on the boat was Capt. H. H. Peterson, of Chicago. Capt. Peterson, although an American, got into the war more than a year before his country declared war against Germany. He went to the East with the British forces in charge of Y.M.C.A. work.

Princess Kiam, daughter of the Sultan of Sulu, usually given as Jolo according to the Spanish pronunciation, and Miss S. Aguinaldo, daughter of the famous Filipino insurrectionist leader, General Carmen Aguinaldo, are on their way to Chicago. They are accompanied by five other Filipino girls of high birth. The United States Government is sending these girls to Eastern American schools. Along with them were twenty-five young Filipino boys who were also going to American schools. Lieut. Boudin and Capt. Corbiere, who have been in Siberia for the French Government, landed here on their way back to France.

N. Romanoff, who says he is not directly related to the late royal family of Russia, was on board. He is an American and has been in Siberia on special work for the United States Government. M. E. Davidson is returning through Canada to his home in Norway. He has been in Japan for some years, being taken out there by the Japanese to conduct whaling operations for the Oriental Whaling Company of Osaka.

Portuguese Priest.
After twenty years' service as secretary to the bishop of Macao, the Rev. A. M. de M. Sarmiento is on his way back to his home in Portugal on a holiday. Bishop Casella, of the West China Protestant Mission, landed here. F. Faber, who has been in the East with his wife and daughter, also landed here.

GOVERNMENT TO TAKE PERSONAL CONTROL OF ITS OWN SHIPS

Vancouver, Aug. 20.—"We will handle our ships ourselves," declared H. Milburne this morning on the eve of his departure for the East. Mr. Milburne is superintendent of the Canadian Government Merchant Service Marine, Ltd., and was answering a question as to the truth of the rumor that the ships were to be handled by local agencies. Mr. Milburne, who has been in the city for the past two months in connection with the Canadian Volunteer and Canadian Trooper, would not express himself on the establishment of Pacific lines. The Canadian Aviator, the next ship to be launched by the Wallace yards, will carry lumber to the United Kingdom.

LOSES PROPELLER OFF CAPE FLATTERY

Seattle, Aug. 20.—While 115 miles west of Cape Flattery at 1 o'clock yesterday morning the steamship Admiral Sebree, of the Pacific Steamship Company, lost her propeller wheel and was helplessly adrift in the open ocean when picked up by the tug Tyne, according to wireless messages received in Seattle from Captain L. Nyström, her master.

The Admiral Sebree was bound from Ocean Falls, B. C., for San Francisco with a full cargo of newsprint paper at the time of the accident. Captain Nyström said there was clear weather and no real danger.

The tug Tyne, of the Puget Sound Tugboat Company, was dispatched to the assistance of the Admiral Sebree at 3:30 o'clock this morning and reached the disabled vessel this afternoon, it was reported. The Sebree will be towed to Seattle.

Prince Rupert, Aug. 20.—Co-operative fish buying in Prince Rupert is being studied by Robert A. Moon, Secretary-Treasurer of the Pacific Sea Products Association of Seattle, who has been here since last week. Mr. Moon says the association's market is to be established at Seattle and its chief concern is to stabilize prices, see that there is a suitable market for the fish, and in general look after the interests of the trade. It is probable the association will acquire a location in Prince Rupert.

PRINCE RUPERT IMPROVES COLD STORAGE PLANT

Prince Rupert, B. C., Aug. 20.—The installation of the two upper floors of the Canadian Fish and Cold Storage Company plant at Seal Cove has been practically completed. Two carloads of pipe, necessary in the installation of the freezing apparatus, and a couple of cars of refrigerating machinery arrived a week ago.

With the new system the plant will be in a position to freeze sixty tons every twenty-four hours, without affecting the temperature in the other rooms. The latter, when stocked to capacity, can hold ten million pounds of fish. While the freezing of fish is in progress the plant can at the same time produce ice at the rate of eighty tons every twenty-four hours.

NO MONEY YET FOR GALIANO CLAIMS

Vancouver, Aug. 20.—There is still no money for the Galiano claims, "brought to the attention of the Department," according to Chairman E. S. H. Winn, of the Workmen's Compensation Board.

"Bill No. 30" was passed at Ottawa on April 1 last, authorizing the deposit of the sum $10,000 to the credit of the Workmen's Compensation Board for the payment of claims arising out of the loss of the Government steamer Galiano, and the Board has made several demands for the fund without effect. An answer to the latest communication with Ottawa is expected shortly.

The Galiano, on fisheries patrol, founded the Queen Charlotte Sound last fall, with her whole crew. Claims were entered for compensation by dependents, and it was found that while the machinery existed for passing on the claims there was no fund for their payment. The matter was taken up with Ottawa and the above mentioned act was passed.

UNITED STATES TO FOLLOW THE LEAD

Grazing Bill to Go to Senate
Patterned After British Columbia Statute

While the United States undoubtedly gave the lead to British Columbia in grazing control on the forested areas, this Province is the leading section of North America to assume active administration of all the public lands under its control for scientific grazing management.

U. S. Follows B. C.

A copy of a Bill has been forwarded to the Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, from Washington, D. C., which contemplates legislation following fairly generally the plan now operating in British Columbia in taking under grazing control the public lands as a whole.

At a meeting held at Salt Lake City on July 21 last, at which 230 leading representatives of the stock interests from all the Western States were in attendance—a unanimous vote for the proposed Bill was passed. And in discussing the question the report says that several proposed Bills before Congress were explained "as well as one particular Bill of a similar nature passed by the Legislature of British Columbia, which contains some features which would undoubtedly be of value in the proposed Bill in this country."

General Powers.

The American Bill vests power in the President of the United States to establish, from time to time, by proclamation, grazing commons upon any of the unserved unappropriated public lands of the United States chiefly valuable for grazing; and thereafter such grazing commons shall be administered by the United States Forest Service under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe; and all laws applicable to the national forests, including the distribution of moneys received, the entry and survey of agricultural homesteads, and the right to prospect for and acquire mineral lands, are hereby extended and made applicable to grazing commons created under the Act.

DISCUSS DETAILS OF BRIDGE QUESTION

Government Asked About Approaches and Paving of Johnson Street

Mayor Porter, City Engineer Preston, and H. C. Hall, M.P.P., were in attendance at a conference yesterday afternoon with Premier Oliver and the Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, at the Parliament Buildings to consider the question of Johnson Street Bridge in respect of details apparently not quite clear to the City Council.

Made Position Clear.

In the first place His Worship desired to know whether the Government would be prepared to grade and pave Johnson Street through the former Songhees Reserve, basing his request upon an arrangement entered into by the late administration, which he regarded as tantamount to a definite promise.

Mr. Oliver took the stand at the outset that the present Government did not consider itself obligated by any undertaking of its predecessors, reminding the Mayor that in his, the Premier's letter of January last, announcing the decision of the Government to contribute $200,000 towards the cost of the structure, the position of the Province had been made perfectly clear. In other words, it was accepted on all sides, in Mr. Oliver's opinion, that the history of the Johnson Street bridge controversy was wiped from the state and a new start toward actual consummation made.

Question of Approaches.

The question was also raised by His Worship as to what the term "Johnson Street Bridge" included, inquiring as to the cost of the work which contemplated the approaches to the bridge and whether the Government's contribution would cover the cost of such approaches.

To this point Mr. Oliver replied that it was not his business to define the precise meaning of "Johnson Street Bridge," for the simple reason that the civic authorities themselves had defined it by their own plans, already approved by the Railway Company and the Province. It would be, he said, towards the cost of the work outlined in those plans that the financial contribution of the Government would be applied.

The Premier stated, however, that the Government intended to continue the excavation of Johnson Street and to dispose of the material where needed. That work was not in any way associated with the present project only in a very indirect way, but was intended as part of the Government plan for the improvement of the former reserve.

Plans Were Clear.

Mr. Oliver points out that the plans already approved include the bridge itself, the approaches and the subway. To the cost of that work, irrespective of technical definitions of certain sections, the Legislature voted the sum of $200,000 at this year's session. Beyond that it is understood the Province does not intend to go.

Good Number of Spectators at All Four Games This Afternoon

Ideal weather again favored the cricket tournament in which four games were started to-day. The mid-week holiday offering an opportunity for more supporters to see the games, there was an increased attendance over that of the first two days of the tournament. Although the L. Zingari team has twice suffered defeat and the Garrison administered a defeat to the Calgary players yesterday, there was a good attendance to see the two teams in action at the Jubilee grounds. The Vancouver Oils are generally regarded as dangerous competitors for the trophy, although they had their colors lowered yesterday, and the game against the Foundation at Beacon Hill was watched with interest by a good number of spectators.

The games on the schedule to-day were as follows:

Garrison vs. Nanaimo, at Work Point.

Zingari vs. Calgary, at Jubilee Hospital.

Vancouver Oils vs. Foundation, at Beacon Hill.

Five C's vs. Congos, at University Grounds.

"ANTI-JOY" BY-LAW FALLS VICTIM TO ALDERMANIC ATTACK

Alderman Sargent's "Battalion of Death" Keeps Its Threat

Alderman Sargent has fulfilled his threat. Persistent and bitter attacks by him and his "Battalion of Death" last night carried the stronghold of Alderman Patrick and his followers, and to use a now famous phrase, "knocked the anti-joy or skidmobile by-law on the head." The sudden demise of the "joy killer" came as a surprise to everyone, and occurred only on a tie vote, and after two aldermen had switched their ballot for the third time.

When the celebrated "anti-joy" measure came up for its third and final reading last night, its champions felt reasonably certain that it would carry safely, for three times Alderman Sargent had endeavored without success to block it.

"The supporters of this by-law claim that it will be enforced with discretion and not on all the streets," began Alderman Sargent. "That is a wrong principle. The people should respect the law and the children should be brought up to respect them. Just think of this a minute—here we are passing a by-law and right in the middle of it we shout from the house tops 'we are not going to enforce it.' Here we are virtually teaching the children to ignore the law. Pretty soon they will lose their respect for more important laws," the Alderman continued, intimating that the new ordinance was likely to breed criminals. "The Council is moving in dangerous paths when it does things like this."

Not Serious.
"Oh, Alderman Sargent is not serious," Alderman Patrick warned the Council. "He doesn't mean what he says. No by-law nor any law for that matter is enforced anywhere. We don't expect to enforce it everywhere but only where the danger is greatest."

"I agree with Alderman Sargent thoroughly," replied Alderman Sargent. "Of course you do," said Alderman Patrick.

"I could agree to this by-law if it specified the roads between the curbs of which the children could not use vehicles," explained Alderman Sargent. "But as it is, it is just what I called it when I first read it—absolute bunk."

Children Would Go to Parks.
Alderman Dinsdale found a new objection to the by-law. "If we pass this measure," he asserted, "all the children will go to the parks and we shall have to have an army of officers to look after them. They might just as well be on the streets."

"Before this measure is put to the Council," Alderman Sargent observed, "I want to assure you all that I am perfectly sincere in my contentions."

Suspense.
The by-law was then put to the meeting. Aldermen Patrick, Clark, Andros, Johns and Mayor Porter voted in favor of it. Alderman Cameron, who at first opposed the by-law, then supported it, voted against it last night, while Alderman Fullerton adopted the same procedure. With Alderman Sargent, Sargent and Dinsdale, the uncompromising opponents of the ordinance, this made an opposition of five. In the absence of Alderman Harvey, this made a tie vote, five to five.

There was silence in the chamber for a few seconds, no one being clear as to just what had happened.

"The by-law is lost!" exclaimed Alderman Sargent.

FINE SUPPORT GIVEN VETS. FOR NEW HOME

G.W.V.A. Have Taken Option on Patricia Building on View Street; Muggins to Help

Splendid support is being given to the proposal of the Great War Veterans' Association to purchase the Patricia Building on the corner of Blanshard and View Streets. An option has been secured on the building for sixty days, and committees are now busy attempting to obtain necessary monies.

At last evening's meeting of the association, $900 was subscribed for bonds under the new building prospectus. The G. W. V. A. plans to raise $20,000, and promises have been received for another $20,000. "Muggins," the famous little Red Cross dog, is to receive a new assignment, and will be going about making collections for the veterans' headquarters.

The association has found its present quarters far too small for its work. Various buildings have been looked over, and the Patricia building has been the choice as a result of the spacious hall and general accommodation. Seventy-eight new members were admitted to the association at last night's meeting, and the total membership is now close about 2,000.

No Outside Labor.
A resolution was passed last night to the effect that the successful tender for the Esquimalt drydock should contain a pledge not to employ any imported labor. A copy of this resolution is to be forwarded to the Provincial and Dominion executives and also to Hon. S. F. Tolmie and J. C. McIntosh, M. P., at Ottawa. It was decided to send a representative, without executive powers, to a meeting of the Victoria Real Estate Exchange to hear the discussion with respect to the recent legislation passed which prevents a real estate man from obtaining commission on any sale made through the Land Settlement Board.

A letter received from the Vancouver branch stated that the co-

Saanich Submits Proposal Regarding Library Maintenance; Individual Payments

Saanich's alternative in connection with an increased grant to the Public Library, new the subject of controversy with the city is contained in the accompanying letter. The contents have hitherto not been published, and give a new angle to the discussion:

W. Leslie Clay, Esq., Acting Secretary Victoria Public Library, Victoria, B. C.
Dear Sir:—Your letter of July 28 was placed before the Council at a meeting held on August 1, when the question of contribution from this municipality for maintenance of the Victoria Public Library was fully discussed, and I was instructed to inform you that whilst the Council appreciate the fact that many of our ratepayers derive a substantial benefit from the use of the library, and the Council are very desirous that they should not be deprived of the privilege, the regret they are unable to increase the amount of the grant to the library without first having submitted the whole question to the ratepayers by way of referendum.

I was instructed to state that $50, the amount previously granted, is at your service, and to suggest that if you cannot see your way to continue the service to the Saanich ratepayers as heretofore that some arrangement might be made whereby the individual should be entitled to the use of the library upon the payment of such a sum as may be determined by the Library Commissioners.

Yours truly,
(Sgd.) HECTOR S. COWPER, C. M. C.

Wrongly Quoted.—Owing to a typographical error in last evening's paper W. J. Bowser, K.C., M.P.P., in his excellent speech at the banquet tendered the National Editorial Association, was quoted as saying that "the British navy performed many valuable services under the direction of Admiral Sims." This is obviously incorrect. A line which would have made the story read "the British navy, ably assisted by the United States navy, under the direction of Admiral Sims," was inadvertently dropped out.

Benson's CORN STARCH

For Tomorrow's Dessert

The question of variety in summer desserts never troubles the woman who knows the possibilities of Benson's Corn Starch, the choicest product of the corn.

Benson's Corn Starch is equally fine for crisp, delicate pastries as it is for simple puddings; it is good for cakes and for pie fillings to say nothing of Blanc Mange, Custards and Ice Cream.

Try one of these recipes for tomorrow's dessert—

Blanc Mange
Four tablespoonsful of Benson's Corn Starch and one quart of milk. Mix the Corn Starch with a little of the milk; heat the remainder of the milk and when boiling add the dissolved Corn Starch; boil for 15 minutes, stirring constantly; sweeten if desired and flavour to taste. Allow to cool in a mould and serve with cream and sugar, jelly or preserves.

Mock Cream Pie
Beat the yolks of three eggs, one cup of sugar and four tablespoonsful of Benson's Corn Starch well mixed. Stir in one pint of hot milk, slowly and add a pinch of salt and a teaspoon of butter. Turn into a crust already baked, grate nutmeg on top. Bake till firm. Cover with meringue and brown.

Coffee Custard
Heat 1 pint of milk and 1/2 cup of Lily White Corn Syrup to boiling point. Add two eggs, well beaten, 1 cup hot strong coffee and 1 tablespoonful of Benson's Corn Starch mixed till smooth with a little cold milk. Stir till it thickens. Pour into glasses. When very cold serve with cream.
